

---

Capital Colored Youth To Edit Bates Weekly

---

John P. Davis, Dunbar High school graduate, the son of William H. Davis, 1307 First street north-west, at a meeting of the college publishing association of Bates college, Lewiston, Maine, yesterday was made editor of the college weekly publication to take the place of Erwin D. Canham, January 1.

Davis, in addition to being editor-in-chief, is prominent as a debater in college. He was initiated last week a member of the Deutsche-Verein. As editor-in-chief of the students' publication, he will preside over the students' publishing board.